

HR Strategy Programme - Honing Your Strategic Skills

Do you want to:

- Feel like a strategic leader?
- Be more strategic and influential?
- Understand the role your brain plays in strategic problem solving?
- Resist being pulled into tactical thinking?

Consistently making a strategic contribution as an HR professional is still a challenge for many individuals. Moving from solving today's problems to becoming a strategic partner is one of the most difficult transitions to make.

The Vital Ingredient

Many courses that promise to help make this shift look at case studies and role models for strategic thinking, but they don't focus on how you need to change your mindset and use an understanding of the brain to make this crucial transition.

What 's required of you

On-line materials

At the outset, you have the option of completing the Basics of Strategy module. Thereafter, each month you receive on-line materials including videos, practical tools and exercises designed for you to use with your team, clients or colleagues. We ask you to review this material and then attend the virtual learning session. You will need 3 to 4 hours in total to complete this.

Coaching

There are six, one to one hour, coaching sessions focused on applying your new knowledge in your role, making personal change and building confidence to behave more strategically. The first is a goal-setting conversation at the outset which includes a strategic thinking self - assessment.

Project

We ask you to select a piece of work that you would like to take a more strategic approach with. We help you to apply the ideas of the programme to this.
